

When does Memorial play? — Majors

Every game Memorial could play in the Majors division, and what has to happen for each one.

How to read this. It's a double-elimination tournament: two losses and you're out. A win sends Memorial deeper into the winners' bracket; a loss drops them into the elimination bracket, where one more loss ends their run. Each row is a game Memorial could reach — the right column shows what makes it happen. Times are scheduled start times and can run early or late.

- * Game 14: the bracket tab lists 3:00 PM; the tournament's "Schedule of Games" tab lists 3:30 PM for the same game. Worth confirming with the tournament director.
- All times are scheduled start times; per the bracket, games may start earlier or later depending on the previous game, weather, field prep, and umpire readiness. Be in the dugout 30 minutes before game time.
- In double elimination, if the elimination-bracket team wins the championship game, an extra "if necessary" deciding game can be required. The bracket doesn't show one, but be ready for the possibility.
